Graphic Designer

About Me

Hey, I'm Prachi Mittal, a passionate and dedicated graphic designer committed to crafting visually compelling designs that resonate with audiences and drive impactful results with my expertise in Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, After Effects, and Figma. Being a design student at World University of Design, I have keen eye for detailed works and skilled at problem-solving. I'm fueled by a deep curiosity for exploring new design concepts and techniques, and I thrive in collaborative environments where I can contribute my skills and learn from others.
